IMPORTANT NOTICE

Your Policy Is About to Expire

Over the past year, it's been a privilege knowing that you entrusted us to provide the financial protection for what is, for most people, their most valuable asset. As a mutual insurance company, we're in business for the sole purpose of providing value and service for you and our thousands of customers - not providing value for shareholders.

We hope you've enjoyed the peace of mind that comes with knowing you are protected by a company that is unparalleled in its history of providing that financial protection and are ready to renew your policy with us!

Included in this package is our Offer to Renew your policy with us. It shows the renewal terms and coverages, any optional endorsements and the amounts of coverage provided.

All you need to do to indicate your willingness to renew your policy is to ensure that payment is received in a timely fashion by the effective date of our Offer to Renew.

This happens in one of two ways:

1. If your policy is set to bill your mortgage company or through escrow, we have sent the Offer to Renew to your mortgage company and they will pay the premium on your behalf, if you do not instruct them otherwise. Your mortgage company is listed on the Offer to Renew. If that is not your current mortgage company, please contact your agent to update your policy so the proper mortgage company can receive the bill.
2. If instead you pay your premium directly to us via an invoice, and pay by check or by credit card, you will receive an invoice for the amount due for the upcoming term in the mail in the coming weeks. Please look for that notice and remit your payment to us by the due date.

Important: If payment for the upcoming term is not received by the due date, which is the effective date of our Offer to Renew, your current policy will expire and will not renew automatically. We will interpret the lack of a payment to mean that you intended to cancel your policy.

If you have any questions about our Offer to Renew, or how to ensure your payment is made, please contact your independent insurance agent, whose contact information is provided on the Offer to Renew.

The impact of inflation on the economy and supply chain disruptions are something we are all feeling in our daily lives. Home rebuilding costs in particular are rising faster than we've seen in decades. From lumber to labor, from shingles to sheetrock, as prices go up, the cost of rebuilding and repairing your home needs to be reflected in your insurance policy.

Your policy renewal included in this packet has been adjusted to reflect these rising reconstruction costs and to ensure that you have the appropriate coverage amount necessary to rebuild your home in the event of a catastrophic loss.

How does inflation and rising construction costs affect my insurance policy?

When the cost of building materials and the laborers needed to make repairs go up, you risk not having enough coverage to rebuild your home to its current condition. Rising costs for things like lumber, roofing material, and drywall could leave you underinsured. We've adjusted the coverage amount for your home to help keep pace with these current inflationary trends.

(Source: Verisk Residential Replacement Cost Index 2Q2022)

I've read that there are shortages of some materials, and even of workers to come make repairs. How does that affect me?

When materials and workers are scarce, it will take more time to complete the repairs that are necessary to rebuild or repair your home. As those delays have gotten longer, the costs for alternative living arrangements go up too. Our inflation adjustment of the coverage for your home will automatically provide you with more coverage for temporary housing as well.

What can I do to help manage my insurance costs?

- If you have questions about the cost of your insurance and the amount of coverage provided by your TPC policy, the best resource is your independent insurance agent. A few minutes can go a long way to ease any worries about your coverage limits and the costs associated with properly protecting your home.
- Are you receiving all of the discounts that are available to you? Did you know that you can get a discount if your automobile coverage is written by the same agent as your home policy, even though it's not written by TPC? We've taken bundling to a whole new level! Why not talk to your agent about your auto coverage to make sure you qualify for a TPC discount? We also have a host of discounts for things like smoke detectors, deductibles, and even one for paperless policy delivery. Your agent is well versed on all of our discounts, so be sure to ask them to help maximize your savings by having the right coverage at the best available cost.

We want to thank you for your decision to purchase insurance coverage through The Philadelphia Contributionship. Being the oldest successful property and casualty insurance company in the United States, we have built a legacy of providing affordable coverage along with the strong financial security our customers rely on.

Many factors go into determining eligibility for coverage and your policy premium, including the use of information from your loss history report, and other consumer reports. Your policy premium was calculated using the lowest rate for which you qualified based on many factors, including a loss history report obtained from A-PLUS™. However, you may not be receiving our most discounted rate, based in whole or in part on the information supplied to us by ISO's Coverage Verifier Database.

A-PLUS™ did not determine your policy premium, and as such cannot explain or change any underwriting or pricing decision that was made. If you have reason to believe there may be an error on your report, you have a right to receive a free copy from ISO, provided you make a written request for the report within 60 days of the receipt of this notice. The request should be sent to the ISO address shown below.

You have the right to dispute any inaccurate information contained in the consumer report directly with ISO. If, after reinvestigation, such information is found to be inaccurate or unverifiable, the information must be deleted promptly from your records. You can then contact us directly or through your independent insurance agent to inform us of any correction.
